

GPs use your Summary Care Record to share medical information with other healthcare staff treating you

We need your permission to add more information to help support your care.

Ask reception for a consent form.